Guest Speakers

Natalie Vanstone Managing Director, JPMorgan

Natalie was a lawyer in New Zealand, before joining investment banking in London. In 2004 she was appointed the Head of Debt Capital Markets at JP Morgan in Sydney. In her 15 year long investment banking career, Natalie has delivered consistent leadership in major global transactions and across a full range of banking areas including international fixed income, debt advisory, private placements, hybrids and structured finance.

Dr Clio Cresswell Senior Lecturer, School of Mathematics, Sydney University

Having spent her childhood growing up in England, the Greek Islands and France, at the age of 18, Clio fell in love with Australia and Mathematics. She went on to win the University Medal, complete her PhD and publish a highly popular book Mathematics and Sex. Clio is also a diverse media personality and was voted one of the 25 Most Beautiful People in Who Weekly 2001. Today, she is also a proud Australia Day Ambassador.

Lee-May Saw President, Women Lawyers Association of NSW

As a solicitor and current President of the Women Lawyers Association of NSW, Lee-May has always been interested in advocacy and law reform. Prior to joining a private law practice, Lee-May worked for the Intellectual Disability Rights Service and Women's Legal Services NSW. She has also participated in several government and non-government policy and law reform inquiries.

Ming Tang Managing Partner, Supply Chain Australia and New Zealand, Accenture

Ming is the Managing Partner for Accenture's Australia and NZ Supply Chain practice. With over 15 years industry and consulting experience, her area of expertise is in development transformational programs that enable organisations to achieve new capabilities in the end-to-end supply chain. Ming's career with Accenture has taken her to the UK, USA, Germany, France, Singapore and Australia.

Michelle Bakar Human Resources, Education and Training Manager, Ella Bache

Currently completing her PhD in Communications and Writing, Michelle has led a diverse career from a dancer and singer starring in musicals, to a prolific and award winning writer publishing in international journals and is now the national Human Resources, Education and Training manager for Ella Bache Australia. Michelle is a mother to be and still sings in the shower.

Irene Wright Executive Director, Goldman Sachs JB Were

Irene joined Goldman Sachs JB Were in 2005 as an Executive Director. She has over 11 years of experience in investment banking, with specialist expertise in equity markets and structured products. Prior to her appointment, Irene worked at Macquarie Bank and established the first warrants desk for their Hong Kong office. Her passions include playing with her two boys, jogging and playing the piano.
